FRED FARR

Fred Farr, Democrat, is running for re-election on Tuesday to the California Senate in the new 17th Senatorial District, created by reapportionment and made up of Monterey, San Benito, Santa Cruz and San Luis Obispo Counties. He has represented Monterey County in the State Senate for 11 years. A resident of Carmel, he reflects the conservation characteristics of our community and has extended these standards to state legislation which includes responsibility for the "open space" Proposition 3 on Tuesday's ballot and the California scenic highway system. He was a courageous enough politician to make a public stand against Humble Oil Company in this community's fight for clean air. He has pledged himself to give his full time to representing the 17th District as senator.

Donald L. Grunsky, Republican, State Senator Fred Farr's opponent in Tuesday's election, also desires re-election to the California Senate where, prior to reapportionment, he represented the northern part of what is now the 17th Senatorial District. He is an attorney and a resident of Watsonville.

WEATHER

Hot spell diminishing about 10 degrees from 90s days and 60s nights we have been enjoying. No rain in sight but some cloudiness. Variable winds 5-15 knots.

ROTARY CLUB TALK

The history and culture of Indonesia was the topic when Rene Pohan, Indonesian language instructor at the Defense Language Institute spoke to the Carmel Rotary Club yesterday. He pointed out that in spite of the republic's great abundance of natural resources, its enormous problems of food shortages and other necessities are caused by a tremendous jump in population since World War II—from 68 million to over 115 million people.

BURT L. TALCOTT

Burt L. Talcott, Republican, is seeking re-election on Tuesday to the House of Representatives from the 12th Congressional District which includes Monterey, San Benito, Santa Cruz and San Luis Obispo counties. Before being elected to Congress four years ago, he was a member of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors for eight years.

Editor's Column

The golden anniversary celebration is over. For 11 days, the many aspects of past, present and a little of the future of Carmel were discussed and evaluated. Although some of the panels drew few people, participants had a good time and what was said is recorded for posterity on tape . . . and all through the city, both at the discussions and parties, a happy feeling of identity with Carmel burgeoned.

This latter factor is the most valuable result of the city's 50th birthday events. With the city now having almost 4,500 persons, the old Carmel spirit of belonging had dissipated to a great extent. However, during the 11 days we were all one with our city.

Councilman Gunnar Norberg drew us together with all the events he planned and much credit is due to his wife, Barbara, member of the Carmel Arts Commission, for her efforts—particularly the visual display of Carmel's history in a room at Sunset Center.

However, the 11 days and the 50

Lively Group Of Enthusiastic Young People In 'Pipe Dream'

A group of 30 talented and enthusiastic young men and women make up the cast of "Pipe Dream," the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical adapted from John Steinbeck's novel, "Sweet Thursday," depicting life on Cannery Row shortly after World War II. The production is being presented as part of Carmel's golden anniversary celebration.

Members of the youthful cast most evidently enjoy singing, dancing and acting roles assigned to them and, under the able direction of Cole Weston, project a lively picture of zany life in a house of ill repute, in a flophouse, in an old boiler and in the Western Biological Laboratory as chronicled with an author's license by Steinbeck and converted for the theatre by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

Settings by Marlinde von Ruhs are colorful and imaginative. Under the direction of Forest Durland, musicians Ray Fabrizio, Helen Gordon, Claude Gilroy and Durland, give a lusty rendition of the musical score, albeit a little too much so on opening night when singers had difficulty in surmounting the orchestral volume in their solo numbers. This, however, was corrected the next evening, as was, also, the unbroken length of the long first act.

Erica Weston, for the most part, did a fine job of costuming the cast, especially the Palace Flophouse boys, The Bear Flag Cafe girls and their "madame," curvaceous Maggi Weston who is admirable in the role of Fauna (Flora.)

Although the "Pipe Dream" role of Doc has little resemblance to the Ed Ricketts people of the Monterey Peninsula knew, this discrepancy doesn't matter, theatre-wise, and Kirby Hansen handles a puzzling part well.

The ingenue role of Suzy, Doc's somewhat unbelievable love interest, is the role of pretty Lollie Schwabe and she does well, too. As in most Steinbeck stories, there is a moron. This difficult part, Hazel, is exceptionally well interpreted by Dick Vreeland. Rudi Gatti is a lively leader of the flophouse gang. Roderick Sibley adds to the unusual atmosphere of the production. Dance numbers show the capable touch of Dale Lefler.

Totally, nothing is wrong with "Pipe Dream," except one factor, the production is based on a pitifully contrived plot conceived by Steinbeck to which Rodgers and Hammerstein failed to add anything. One proof of the latter is the fact that members of the audience do not leave a production of "Pipe Dream." with any catchy tune ringing in their ears.

However, those who attend performances of this musical at Sunset Center auditorium tomorrow and Saturday evenings at 8:30 p.m., also on November 11 and 12, will see an unusually fine presentation of anything "Pipe Dream" has to offer. It is too bad the talent and deft direction of this production are devoted to such mediocre material. M.L.

John Geisen Jr.

Military funeral services and burial will be held Monday in Arlington National Cemetery, Virginia, for Sergeant John Bennett Geisen Jr., descendant of a pioneer California family, who was killed in action October 26 in South Viet Nam. John, who was 25, had been in Viet Nam since July, and was serving as a platoon sergeant with the First Cavalry Division, Air Mobile, when he "died of gunshot wounds received on combat operation against a hostile force," according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Robert F. Hart, of Darien, Connecticut. His previous overseas service included 13 months with the Seventh Cavalry Division in South Korea.

Besides his mother, the former Florence Edith Brown, John is survived by a sister, Lee Geisen, now serving with the Peace Corps in Mbeya, Tanzania; his father, John Bennett Geisen, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Lee Geisen, both of Carmel; his half-sister and half-brother, Martha and Guy Hart of Darien, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown of San Rafael. Mrs. Brown is a grandniece of the late U. S. Senator William Sharon, Comstock Lode figure who built San Francisco's famous Palace Hotel and headed the Bank of California.

A tall, husky, outgoing young man who made friends easily, John was a member of the football squad during his prep school years at Cushing Academy, Asburnham, Massachusetts, to whose Library Fund memorial donations may be sent, in lieu of flowers. Books purchased through the donations will be memorialized to him.

THE STUDIO
"The Little Foxes" is a drama of violent emotions, crackling dialogue, mounting excitement and chilling suspense. Our production has Betty Fowlston as Regina and Gertrude Chappell as Birdie, supported by Bob Lotz, Bob Lynn, Roy Baxter and other fine actors. The costumes, furniture and set are as authentic as we can make them. In short, it is our prestige show of the season. But we would like more than a succes d'estime. We hope that box-office response to "The Little Foxes" will encourage all companies on the Peninsula to produce more shows of this calibre. An evening of rewarding theatre awaits you at the Studio every Friday, Saturday and Sunday for a limited run. Dinner and show $5.50; show alone $2.75.

CITY COUNCIL

A parade just before dusk on Monday, Carmel's 50th birthday, was a concluding event of the city's golden anniversary celebration. Heralded by the Fort Ord Band, members of the city council rode from the city hall to Sunset Center in Al Hood's vintage carryall.

Obscured by light on the windshield is Mayor Steve Grant, resplendent in a top hat and carrying the mayoral baston de mando. Unseen, too, is Regan, Councilman Eben Whittlesey's Guide Dog who sat at her master's feet as she does at all council meetings—but she didn't fall asleep in the parade. Behind Al Hood, the driver, is Councilman Herbert Blanks; behind him, Councilman Gunnar Norberg, celebration chairman. Councilman William Sefton can be glimpsed behind Mr. Whitlesey who is sitting next to Mr. Blanks.

VINTAGE FIRE ENGINE

Carmel's 36-year-old Mack fire department truck competed with other vintage vehicles in the city's 50th birthday parade, as did the city's old street department grader. However, all the shining newest city vehicles, also those not so new, paraded, too. Police Chief Clyde Klaumann's car was followed by two other police cars driven by his department's two policewomen. And Lynn Hodges, in uniform, represented Carmel's first police officer, Marshal Gus Englund.

LONGTIMERS BREAKFAST AT FOREST THEATER

FILIA CIRCLE SALE

An unusual sale of dry materials and driftwood, also arrangements of these decorative items, will be held at the Estrada Adobe on Tyler Street in Monterey on November 12. The items have been carefully made by members of the Filia Circle of the Community Church of the Monterey Peninsula. Sale hours will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Even in its heyday, the Forest Theater never had as large a cast on its stage as was seen at the Longtimers Breakfast on October 23, the third day of Carmel's 11-day golden anniversary celebration.

All those onstage had lived in Carmel 30 years or longer and were seated at tables according to their number of years of residence. The picture above does not encompass the entire cast. The audience was made up of those whose years of living here fell between 20 and 29 years.

In all, 400 persons gathered to toast Carmel's past in champagne and eat the breakfast cooked in the open air in front of the stage by soldiers from Fort Ord. The aroma of their cooking mingled with the scent of the pines which formed the stage backdrop at the theatre opened in 1910, and in whose productions many of those present had taken part, some as tiny tots.

Herbert Heron, founder of the theatre, epitomized everyone's feelings when he said, "I came to Carmel in 1908 and I loved it. I was here in 1918 . . . 1928 . . . 1938 . . . 1948 . . . 1958, and I still loved it. I hope to be here in 1968 and I I know I shall still love Carmel."

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Archie Gash are pictured as they cut their wedding cake at a reception in the Presidio Officers' Club following their wedding at All Saints' Episcopal Church October 22. The evening ceremony, performed by the Reverend Peter Farmer, was attended by over 300 guests.

The bride, the former Judith Ellen Pratt, wore a gown of white lace over satin, with a chapel length lace train. Her shoulder-length illusion veil was held by a spray of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a spray arrangement of phaelenopsis orchids and stephanotis. Judy is the daughter of Colonel R. S. Pratt, Jr. (USA ret.) and Mrs. Pratt of Carmel Knolls.

Juanita Brosche of Carmel was Judy's maid of honor; Suzanne Moller of Aptos, Marian Gash, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. David Fuller were the other attendants. Their apricot gowns were floor length empire style with long streamer bows down the back. They wore matching nose veils and carried bouquets of apricot and yellow flowers.

The couple also was attended by three younger friends. Little Diane Wilsdon, five year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilsdon of Carmel, was the flower girl in a crisp, yellow frock, carrying a basket of yellow flowers. The ring bearer was four year-old Michael Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Young of Seal Rock, Oregon. Mark Rudolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Rudolph of Carmel was the acolyte.

Mrs. Pratt chose a long, satin gown of kelly-green, with empire waist and a beaded belt. Her hat of green satin matched her dress.

The groom's mother wore a long champaigne and gold brocade dress with a small gold hat.

The bridegroom asked Fritz Lichty to be his best man. John Gash, the bride's brother, David Fuller and William Carson served as ushers.

Judy, a 1964 graduate of Carmel High School, attended Monterey Peninsula College, as did her new husband, who graduated from Monterey High School.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald C. Gash of Seaside and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gash of Monterey. He has one brother, John Gash of Torrance.

Following a wedding trip in Northern California, the newly married couple is at home in Pacific Grove.

International Party

With their two eldest children away at college, Stephen Dyer at U. C. and Peter, a freshman at Stanford, the Peter Dyers, with Jane and John, have chosen to open their charming home to international students who are presently at MPC. At a recent gathering they entertained at a buffet supper Gloria Fung and Ivy Tung of Hong Kong, Hai Shinn of Korea, and Christine Phung and Gia Canh Tran of Viet Nam.

Adding a new dimension to the party were William Riggs and Jordan Peters, students at the DLI, able to converse with ease in Korean, also Edward Flaphohler, now studying Vietnamese at the DLI, with a background in Mandarin Chinese from his experience at Yale and on Formosa.

Mr. and Frederick K. Duhring were also guests at the party.

Steans to Honolulu

The 15-year-old dream of the Ralph Steans to move to Honolulu looks as if it is about to come true. Their current plans are to leave Carmel around the end of the year taking with them their daughter Sally, who is home after an extended summer in Europe. Their older daughter Karen, an executive secretary to Spencecliff Corporation, is already living in their Hawaiian home. Their son will join them at Christmas when he will have a month after leaving the Strategic Air Command Headquarters in Omaha. Another part of their plan is to waste no time unpacking but treat themselves to another dream —a trip around the world.

ATTEND DANSE MACABRE

Bob and Lilli Smith of Carmel are seen, above, arriving at the cocktail-buffet Saturday given by Mr. and Mrs. Aime Michaud in their home. The affair honored Social Spectator Tennis contestants before the Danse Macabre at the Beach Club. Campbells Are Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell of Carmel entertained at a small dinner party recently in their home on Monte Verde Street. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Bow of Carmel, Bart Young from the Philippines, and David Mei from Formosa. Mr. Young is a business student at Monterey Peninsula College and Mr. Mei is in engineering at the college.

College Festivities

Mrs. Raymond Smith attended Parents' Weekend at Bradford Junior College in Massachusetts, where her daughter, Debbie, is a freshman, Mrs. Smith also took part in the festivities celebrating the dedication of the new Dorothy M. Bell Arts-Study Center. Miss Bell, the president of Bradford, is the sister of Dr. Richard W. Bell of Carmel.

GRAND PRIX PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Coe of Pebble Beach, Mrs. Douglas T. Brantley of Monterey and Mrs. Fred C. Talbot Jr. of Pebble Beach attended the cocktail party given at the Beach Club for drivers in the Monterey Grand Prix as guests of the Sports Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula.

Miss Prizer Wed At Mission

Patricia Ann Prizer, daughter of Colonel Oliver H. Prizer (USA ret) and Mrs. Prizer of Carmel, was married October 15 to Helmuth Frederick Boeger of Oakland. The Reverend Roger J. Dieudonne performed the 2 p.m. ceremony in the Carmel Mission Basilica where the sanctuary was graced with standing vases of yellow, pale green and bronze chrysanthemums and gladioli for the occasion. Pale yellow maline bows adorned each pew.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was attired in a champagne rosette ribbon-knit with a mink collar, with which she wore a brown tiered ribbon bow hat with champagne illusion covering. Her hand corsage was of beige cymbidiums. Complementing her costume were a diamond bracelet, which had been a wedding gift from her father to her mother, and the pearl and diamond earrings given to her by the bridegroom.

Mrs. Francis X. Buty of Sequoyah Hills, Oakland, was matron of honor. With her pale pink brocade suit she wore a wine-colored feathered hat and carried a corsage of cypripedium.

Eldon Eby of Altadena was best man and the ushers were Francis X. Buty of Sequoyah Hills and Joseph A. Gehres of Sacramento.

Mrs. Prizer attended her daughter's wedding in a brocade suit of silver-green, complemented by an olive-green feathered hat and a corsage of green cymbidiums.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Henry F. Boeger of Antioch, chose a royal blue-seafoam green suit with a mink hat and pinned on a phalaenopsis orchid.

The Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club was the setting for the reception which followed the ceremony. There, the newlywed couple cut a traditional wedding cake decorated with small yellow roses and stephanotis. After receiving the congratulations of family and friends, they left for a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination. They returned this week to make their home in Oakland, where Mr. Boeger is secretary-treasurer of State Electric Supply, Inc.

The new Mrs. Boeger received her B. S. degree from Auburn University, Alabama, where she was affiliated with Chi Omega sorority and was elected to Phi Kappa Phi national honorary society. Patricia belongs also to the Daughters of the U. S. Army, Monterey Peninsula Panhellenic and the American Association of University Women. She is the sister of Mrs. Virgil M. Money of Langley AFB, Virginia, and the niece of Miss Genevieve Gehres of Carmel.

The bridegroom, son of the late Henry F. Boeger, has one sister, Mrs. Russell H. Self of Frankfurt, Germany. He is a member of Sequoyah Country Club of Oakland.

Tiffany Tops Twins

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Glover have brought Tiffany Elizabeth home from the Community Hospital to join nearly-two-year-old twins, Rosalind and "Buddy". The children's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Glover of Carmel Valley and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Valenciana of Monte Bello.

Julie Joined The Family

Genial Ron Pollacci was dispensing cigars with abandon last week. The largesse was occasioned by the birth of the Pollaccis' new daughter, Julie, on October 23. Waiting at home to welcome Julie were Victoria, Mark, Tom, Ronna and David, also her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Lazio of Pacific Grove. The new comers' paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pollacci of Antioch.

Cameron Butts To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. J. Arch Butts of Pebble Beach have announced the engagement of their daughter, Cameron, to Tito Juan Bianchi,, son of Mrs. John Kellar Ames of Atherton and the late Tito J. Bianchi.

The future bride, a graduate of Santa Catalina School, is in her junior year at Stanford, where she returned this fall from six months at the university's campus in Italy.

Cameron's brothers are J. Arch Butts III of New York and Donald Butts of Pebble Beach. She is the granddaughter of General Donald C. Cubbison (USA ret) and Mrs. Cubbison of Carmel and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Arch Butts of Wichita, Kansas.

Her fiance is the brother of Beaumont and Adam Bianchi II of Pasadena and of Mrs. Peter (Nora) Stent of Chico. He is the grandson of Mrs. Frank G. Marcus of Palo Alto and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Auty of New York and Providence.

Mr. Bianchi attended Choate School and is a graduate of Stanford University, where he was affiliated with Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He will enter Officers Candidate School of the U. S. Navy Air Force at Pensacola. With marriage, the future benedict will relinquish membership in the Bachelors of San Francisco.

The bethrothed couple plans to be married on February 11.

Visiting Newlywed Couple

Sp. 4/C Timothy L. Jones, now stationed at Fort Devens, Massachusetts, has been home on leave to visit his parents, Alex N. Jones, who is employed at the Carmel Post Office, and Mrs. Jones of Pacific Grove.

While on the coast, Tim flew down to visit his sister, Karen Ann, and her new husband, Seaman Recruit Robert R. Parkhurst, in San Diego. The young couple, who were married September 28 in Boise, Idaho, were on the Peninsula recently after Bob completed basic training.

TREASURE DISCOVERED

Above, as a friend watches, Jeff Porter explores the bed of the dilapidated truck he has discovered behind the old Hatton mansion which stood on a knoll overlooking the entrance to Carmel Valley before it was razed in March of 1965. Jeff purchased what was revealed to be the milk delivery truck for the Hatton Dairy, which was located on the present site of Carmel Rancho shopping center, and began restoration of the vehicle before he sold it to Tony August. Jeff, the son of Mrs. Beverley Porter of Carmel, is now serving with the U. S. Navy.

THE MENOMINEE TODAY

The rear view of The Menominee, above, shows how carefully the wooden body of the truck, steering wheel, running boards and mudguards have been restored. It also shows the old 35x5 Federal Cord, Double Blue Pennant—Extra Service tires on the large spoked wheels. The present owner of The Menominee regrets that his restoration project had not advanced to the point that he could have driven the vehicle in Carmel's Golden Anniversary Parade on Monday.

CARMEL AUTHOR IN WHO'S WHO

The latest edition of Who's Who in the West includes a thumbnail biography of Nelo Drizari, author and painter. A resident of Carmel, he was a member of the faculty at the Defense Language Institute when it was the Army Language School and served as chairman of the Albanian department, to which he was assigned by the Pentagon to organize.

In his varied career, Nelo Drizari has been a syndicated staff writer and reporter, also editor of two weekly newspapers. During World War II, he was with the psychological warfare section of the OWI and Voice of America, broadcasting daily to the Balkan guerrillas in the Albanian language. He is an author of several books, including a novel, and has just completed "Fabulous Wolf And Dreamer," a life of Jack London.

PROUD OWNER

Tony August bought The Menominee, as the old milk truck is called, from Jeff Porter about a year ago and is continuing the restoration in the garage of his home at Scenic and Thirteenth. He says that The Menominee is one of a very few delivery wagons made in Menominee, Michigan, between 1909 and 1919. August is painstakingly studying all photographs of old Carmel where trucks are shown in order to faithfully reproduce The Menominee as it was when it delivered milk and transported baggage from Monterey to Carmel. He also has consulted "Flip" Hatton of Carmel Valley who remembers riding in the truck as a child.

CANNY COUNSEL by Sagacious Sal

Dear Sal,

How can I get my husband to willingly share his larger vehicle with me? My small car is not always of adequate size for the hauling I have to do with my two boys. When I ask for the loan of my husband's car for such special occasions, he gives it to me very reluctantly. He begrudges my using it because he feels he's the only one who can drive it properly and take care of it.

Crowded

Dear Crowded,

In many respects, your husband shows himself to be kind and considerate. But I also see fussiness in his writing, and an ability to express himself in clear, forcible language. On the other side, you are "quick on the trigger," and a little overly sensitive.

It seems to me that if your husband won't let you use his larger car on occasion — then he should buy you a larger car for the family. And he'd do it, too! You're the more practical, thriftier one in the family.

Anyone may write to Sagacious Sal. However, her consideration is based on handwriting, so letters must be handwritten and addressed to Box G-1, Carmel. Writers need not identify themselves other than by a pseudonym.

(Official Ballot Argument for Proposition 1-A)

Proposition 1-A puts into effect the recommendations of California's blue-ribbon Constitution Revision Commission to clarify, modernize and simplify the State's unwieldy, outmoded Constitution.

Providing for legislative, executive and judicial reform, 1-A has the enthusiastic support of both political parties, business, labor, farm leaders, educators, judges, lawyers, liberals and conservatives.

PARTY PLANS . . .

By Phyllis Jervey

FAVORITE FARE FROM PARISH LADIES

Christmas Bazaar time is November 10 at All Saints' Episcopal Church. The Guilds of Churchwomen will present their handmade and homecooked wares in this second fund-raising event of each year. The proceeds go to All Saints' missionary, Karen Bruckner, in Kimberley, South Africa, as well as mission enterprises in the California Diocese and other parts of the world. All Saints' Day School in Carmel Valley is also generously assisted by these funds.

Of special interest to PARTY PLANS' readers will be the Pantry Shelf, in the Parish Hall at Dolores and Ninth, which will feature such homemade goodies as fudge and other candies; cakes, cookies, pies and breads; red wine vinegar in artistic hand-decorated bottles; preserves, jams, jellies and relishes; sugared walnuts and maple syrup. A Gourmet Hot Luncheon will be prepared and served by parish ladies from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p.m. There will also be a snack bar open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

We have discovered that parish ladies are excellent cooks and most cooperative. As a salute to their generosity, PARTY PLANS now shares the following favorite fare from seven parishioners of All Saints'.

Mrs. David Hill, the charming, soft-spoken wife of the rector of All Saints', tells us that her favorite family casserole, and a painless way to glamorize vegetables so the children will consume them eagerly, is the following easily assembled and delicious dish.

CHECKERBOARD CHEESE CAKE
(Serves 6))

Three medium yellow squash, trimmed and thinly sliced; 6 tbsps. salad oil; 1 pkg. fresh spinach; 3 medium tomatoes, sliced; 1 cup creamed cottage cheese; 1½ cups coarsely crushed saltines; 1 tsp. fines herbes; 3 slices processed American cheese, cut in thin strips.

Saute squash lightly in oil in large skillet; remove and set aside. Repeat with spinach and tomatoes (each separately, as the vegetables are to be used in individual layers). Mix cottage cheese, saltine crumbs and herbs. Place squash in shallow 8-cup Pyrex baking dish; top with half of cottage cheese mixture. Add a layer of spinach, the rest of the cheese mixture, and last, the tomatoes. Top with American cheese strips, checkerboard fashion. Bake at 375 F. for 30 minutes.

Mrs. Peter Farmer, the wife of the headmaster of All Saints' Day School, laughingly admits that she "just tosses things together and sometimes they turn out better than usual!" Mrs. Farmer's delight is her herb garden surrounding a pretty little fountain in their patio. Just a step from the kitchen are fragrant, lovingly tended, herbs—rosemary, sweet basil, two types of thyme and two of sage, mint, oregano and, of course, parsley and chives.

The Farmers like an all-purpose side dish which lifts the most commonplace dish to perfection. It follows.

HERBED CARMEL VALLEY MUSHROOMS
(Serves 6)

Melt 2 tbsps. butter; slice 1 white onion thinly; add 1 lb. fresh Carmel Valley mushrooms, stems removed; saute until mushrooms are tender but not limp; add salt and cracked pepper to taste. Then reach out into your herb garden and pick a leaf or two of fresh rosemary, crush it gently in the palm of your hand and add to mushrooms with some snipped (with scissors) parsley. This is excellent with poultry, served in a separate dish to put over the chicken. For meats, use oregano as the herb. For omelets, a mixture of several herbs gives a dash to the mushrooms which can be used as a filling or topping of omelets or eggs in any form. Hamburgers become really gourmet with this treatment, so let's all start herb gardens!

Mrs. Lloyd Johnston, whose husband is assistant to the rector, is the bride of the parish. With present-day inventiveness, alert Mrs. Johnston suggests the next recipe.

PARTY HORS D'OEUVRE
(Serves "Many"!)

Take a large-sized frozen pizza (sausage type); thaw. With scissors cut pizza into strips 1/3 inch wide and 6 inches long. Then take each strip and roll it up. Secure with colored picks. Place in single layer in shallow baking pan—heat at 400 F. for 10 minutes. Marvelous with aperitifs, salads, at tea parties; also "morning coffees", as bridge snacks or midnight nibblers. Especially inviting for those who don't care for sweets. Good, actually served hot, warm or even cold!

We now present a Cordon Bleu souffle which Mrs. Ernest Leffingwell, a long time parishioner of All Saints', acquired during one of her sojourns in Paris. Her husband was brought up as a boy in a girls' Episcopal school of which his father was clergyman-headmaster. And Ernest became one of the most intrepid of Arctic explorers in the dog team era!

The next recipe is now their energy-giving, often enjoyed food.

CORDON BLEU CHEESE SOUFFLE
(Serves 6)

One tsp. salt; 7 tbsps. butter; 7 tbsps. flour; 2½ cups milk; 1¾ cups grated sharp cheese (Cheddar); 7 egg yolks and 7 egg whites.

Make a thick white sauce of salt, butter, flour and milk. Add cheese and stir until melted, then add beaten egg yolks. Beat whites stiff and fold into above mixture. Turn into a round buttered Pyrex baking dish and bake in a 325 F. oven until souffle is firm when pressed with your finger and silver knife comes out clean when gently inserted. Do not open oven door for at least 20 minutes. It should be firm and ready to serve immediately after about 35 minutes baking. The cream sauce holds this souffle together which makes it more failure-proof than other souffles.

Mrs. Beulah Austin is always a cheerful contributor to parish activities. Among her baking specialties is the following Banana Bread, often served at coffee hour following Sunday services.

BEULAH'S BANANA BREAD

One-half cup butter; 1 cup sugar; 2 eggs, beaten; ½ cup buttermilk; 1 tsp. baking soda; 2 cups sifted flour; pinch of salt; 3 large ripe bananas.

Cream butter, add sugar slowly; cream well. Add eggs and beat. Mix soda into buttermilk, then alternate salted flour with buttermilk and mix into first mixture. Last thing is to mash bananas on a plate with a silver fork and add to mixtures. Put into buttered 2-quart loaf pan in 350 F. oven for 1 hour and 10 minutes. Test center with broom straw for doneness. Cool well, wrap in foil and refrigerate one day. At serving slice, cut each slice in half, and spread the following mixture on slices. Whip together 1 large Philadelphia Cream Cheese with a heaping tbsp. mayonnaise. Makes about 35 small slices.

Attractive and efficient Harriet Meyer runs the many-faceted office side of All Saints' with utmost expertise. Harriet's culinary offering is the beautiful salad below.

SWEET-SOUR SALAD MOLD
(Serves 6)

One tsbp. dry mustard and ¾ cup sugar mixed together. Add ¾ cup vinegar, ¼ cup water with a pinch of salt and 4 beaten eggs. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened; add to this 1 pkg. unflavored gelatin softened in 1 tbsp. cool water. Stir until dissolved. Cool and fold in 1 cup whipped cream. Put into dampened round mold. Excellent served with a hot or cold holiday baked ham.

Perfect for holiday party planning is the exciting menu Mrs.

DONATES MAGAZINES

Brigadier General Frayne Baker (USA ret.) of Pebble Beach transfers magazines from the trunk of his car to the arms of Pfc. Gerald J. Kaiser, Fort Ord Hospital orderly, for distribution to patients in the wards. General Baker was business administrator of Japan for the late General Douglas McArthur.

Mary Burdett

Requiem mass was celebrated at Carmel Mission Basilica Friday morning for Mrs. Mary Loretta Burdett, who died at her Carmel Valley home October 26 after a long period of failing health.

A Carmel Valley resident for the past four years, Mrs. Burdett was a native of Cooperstown, New Hampshire, where she was born July 13, 1886.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George Buck of Carmel Valley and Mrs. Marshall Rooney of Nanuet, New York; two sons, Lester C. Burdett Jr. of Los Altos and Paul F. Burdett of Servena Park, Maryland; and nine grandchildren.

Burial will take place in Oak Hill Cemetery, Nyack, New York. The Mission Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Spiritual bouquets are preferred.

Colonel McEnery

Services were held Saturday in All Saints' Episcopal Church for Lieutenant Colonel Douglas Wiltz McEnery (USA Medical Corps ret.), who died unexpectedly October 28 in a local hospital. He was 85 years old.

A veteran of World War I and World War II, he retired in 1945 with 34 years' service. He was a graduate of Tulane University, 1903, and George Washington University, 1909, and a member of the College of Surgeons General.

Colonel McEnery leaves his wife, Katherine, of Carmel; a daughter, Mrs. Carolyn MacGinnis of England; a son, Lieutenant Colonel John W. McEnery, USA, Madrid, Spain; and seven grandchildren.

Military rites were held Tuesday at Arlington National Cemetery, Fort Meyer, Virginia.

Paul Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

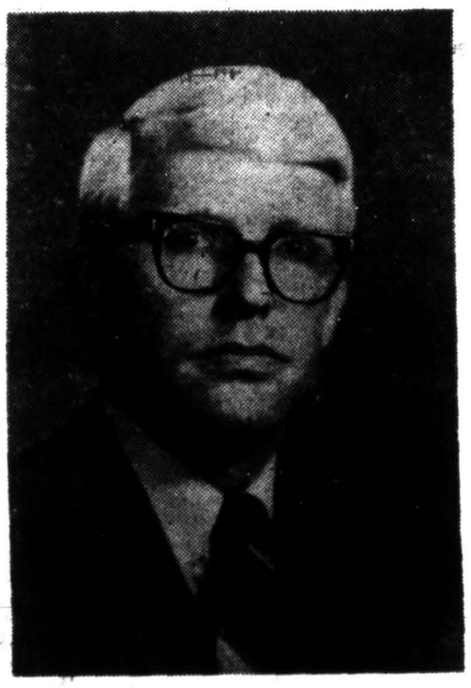
John Rhodes

Private services for John Arthur Rhodes, who died October 26 in a local hospital after a lengthy illness, were held October 27 at the Mission Mortuary. Inurnment followed in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

Mr. Rhodes, a resident of Carmel for the past 20 years, was born in Heywood, England, on May 1, 1890. He was a retired accountant.

He leaves a brother, Sydney H. Rhodes, of Mill Valley.

Those wishing to make contributions in memory of Mr. Rhodes may do so to the Monterey County Cancer Society, P. O. Box 1028, Monterey.



Jon Waycott

Just returned from a special leaders' conference in Indianapolis, Indiana, is Jon Waycott of Tom Brown Associates. The sessions were held at the home office of the State Life Insurance Company, the major life company Waycott represents. On his way to Indiana, he visited the E. Ray Jerkins agency in Nashville, Tennessee, to observe operations and training techniques of that agency which is one of the company's leading teams. Jon Waycott now will assume duties as director of life agencies for Tom Brown Associates' offices in Carmel, Fresno and San Luis Obispo.

Ansel Adams Heads Open Space Campaign

Ansel Adams, internationally known photographer, outdoorsman and conservationist, has been appointed Monterey County chairman for the "Yes on Proposition 3" campaign sponsored statewide by Californians for Open Space Conservation and Recreation, according to Allen L. Chickering, chairman of the Northern California executive committee.

Proposition 3, authored by Senator Fred S. Farr of Carmel, will permit the legislature to create legislation for equitable taxing of open space land used for recreation, scenic beauty, conservation of natural resources, and production of food and fiber.

MPVS TO ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Members of the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services will meet tomorrow at 11 a.m. to conduct business and to elect new officers for 1967. The general meeting will be held at Asilomar and will be followed by a luncheon there in Woodlands Dining Room. For reservations, phone Mrs. David Lumsden (375-1915), Mrs. John Dujmovich (624-4952) or Mrs. C. Getty Fairchild (659-4376).

The MPVS Thrift Shop will be closed tomorrow.

HOSE CART RACE

Above is the team representing the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department which took third place in hose cart races held last month as part of the firemen's Fire Prevention Week observance. They are John Hicks and Ron Leidig in front, Vince Rogers and Elio Chiappe in back with Bob Updike hidden behind the cart. First and second places were taken by teams of Pacific Grove firemen. Carmel Valley fire department's team came in fourth. During the three-day observance, hundreds of children were taken for a ride in the Carmel fire trucks and given refreshments at the fire station. Dozens of teen-agers joined in the department's street dance in front of the firehouse on Saturday night.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Isaiah's prophecy concerning the mission of Christ Jesus is a part of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man" to be read in all Christian Science Churches this Sunday: "The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me; because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound."

Correlative readings from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Through discernment of the spiritual opposite of materiality, even the way through Christ, Truth, man will reopen with the key of divine Science the gates of Paradise which human beliefs have closed, and will find himself unfallen, upright, pure, and free, not needing to consult almanacs for the probabilities either of his life or of the weather, not needing to study brainology to learn how much of a man he is."

Art News . . .

H. Frederick Todd, one of the earliest members of the Carmel Art Association, will exhibit publicly for the first time in 17 years at the association's gallery this month.

This will be a complete show of his life's work as a sculptor and woodcarver. His art has been compared with the 15th Century masters.

Originally from Corral de Tierra, Mr. Todd now resides in the studio of another famous Peninsula artist, the late Rollo "Moonlight" Peters of Peters' Gate in Monterey.

Contributions to the forthcoming "Christmas Creations" show of the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association are already being received, according to the committee in charge of the annual event. Anyone wishing to submit entries may obtain forms at the organization's gallery on Lincoln Street. Additional information is also available there or may be had by phoning Mrs. William Arnold, general chairman (375-3991).

"Christmas Creations" will be held at the Mark Thomas Inn on December 7, preceded by a champagne preview the evening of December 6. Door prizes include a metal sculpture by Traylor Dunwoody; a week's vacation for two at Kona Plantation, Hawaii; a lady's diamond wrist watch from Henri Corbat; and three individual "Main Chance" days at Elizabeth Arden's San Francisco salon.

Committee chairmen assisting Mrs. Arnold are Mrs. Saul Weingarten, acquisitions; Mrs. Barbara Tripp, decorations; Mrs. Walter Jennings, door prizes and tickets.

Paintings by Joseph Tanous will be shown at the Pantechnicon, 1849 Union Street, San Francisco, from Monday until November 26. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Two of the most lively panel discussions during Carmel's golden anniversary celebration were those presented by local artists with John Cunningham, director of the Carmel Art Institute and a former president of the Carmel Art Association, as moderator. Artists who participated in the October 25 discussion were Pat Carey, Patricia Cunningham, Gene McComas, John Boit Morse, Robert Nelson and Zdnek Rada. On October 27, panelists were Joe Ataide, Victor DiGesu, Louisa Jenkins, Marlinde von Ruhs, George Seideneck and S. C. Yuan.

California Crafts V, the fifth biennial statewide exhibition sponsored by the Creative Arts League of Sacramento in cooperation with the E. B. Crocker Art Gallery, will be held from March 18 through April 23, 1967. The purpose of this, as in preceding shows, is to focus interest on important trends in designer crafts and extend public recognition of them.

The coming show will be open to California craftsmen, aged 18 through 30, working in all craft media including ceramics, textiles, jewelry, metal, wood, enamels and glass. Work done under supervision will not be eligible. Entries are due January 13 and 14.

Eudorah M. Moore, curator of design at the Pasadena Art Museum and director of the California Design Exhibition, will judge. Cash and purchase awards up to $100 each will be given work deemed worthy of recognition.

Frank W. Kent, director of the E. B. Crocker Art Gallery, announces that entry forms are now available through the gallery at 216 0 Street, Sacramento, California 95814.

Skaalegaard Square-Rigger Art Gallery, Carmel's newest, has opened in Los Cortes building on Dolores between Fifth and Sixth streets and features the work of Hans Skaalegaard, a sailor turned artist. "Though the era of big, square-rigged commercial sailing ships is gone forever, their majestic lines live on in the paintings of Hans Skaalegaard," wrote one art critic.

The Danish-American merchant mariner works in oils, watercolors, prints and pen and ink. Demonstrating an early aptitude for painting, he nevertheless followed the pattern of his ancestors and went to sea. After the war years, during which he survived four sinkings, he studied art throughout Europe and at the Royale Academy of Fine Arts in Copenhagen, also with Anton Fisher in New York. This training, together with a great love for sailing ships, has fired his imagination and enabled him to create paintings of authenticity and mood.

He has permanent shows in six San Francisco galleries and has exhibited at numerous places in California, also at Gallery A in New York City. His paintings are included in private collections from coast to coast.

IVY BAKER PRIEST VISITS PAPER

On her recent campaign visit to the Monterey Peninsula, Ivy Baker Priest, Republican candidate for state treasurer, called at the Pine Cone office to emphasize that it is vital for California taxpayers to get the best protection possible for their money and be fully informed on fiscal matters through regular reports from the office of the treasurer. As treasurer of the United States for eight years, during the Eisenhower administration, Mrs. Priest made such reports on a daily basis. Above she accepts a copy of the Pine Cone from Don Mitchell, advertising manager, while Richard Trueblood of the back shop staff, Jane Vial, social editor, and Marjory Lloyd, editor, look on.

What's Going on Here?

BY B. ROWE

CARMEL FOUNDATION
Town House

On November 9, Mrs. Gilbert DeVlaminck, a Pacific Grove milliner, will demonstrate how to create a hat from feathers at 3 p.m. at Town House. She also will show other millinery modeled by wives of students at the Naval Postgraduate School. Tea will follow at 4 o'clock.

At the Town House Wednesday meeting this week, Stanley Oakes discussed the ABCs of electricity.

All interested persons are invited to the Wednesday gatherings at Carmel Foundation's Town House, a meeting place for older residents of the community.

CARMEL VALLEY MANOR

Last Wednesday, the 17 propositions on the November 8 general election ballot were discussed and presented by Mrs. Lowell Figen and Mrs. Robert Newton of the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters to Manor residents and interested Valley neighbors at a morning meeting. The Meeting House was full and much interest was shown in the propositions presented.

One of the panelists in the discussion of the place of the crafts and craftsmen in the life of Carmel was Joni Clayton. This event was part of the program celebrating the 50th Anniversary of Carmel. Mrs. Clayton also was one of the "working craftsman," who gave a demonstration in weaving at the Arts and Crafts Fair on Sunday afternoon.

HACIENDA CARMEL
Carmel Valley

Members of the Casa Lobos Men's Club of Hacienda Carmel held their October luncheon at Soledad Correctional Training Facility where they were conducted on a facility-wide tour by F. W. Forden, administrative assistant. Luncheon receipts, above actual food costs, went to the institution's recreation fund. Members were very favorably impressed by the nature and extent of the rehabilitation program conducted at Soledad. With few exceptions, men released from this facility return to civilian life with skills that enable them to lead productive lives.

Mr. Forden indicated that Soledad Correctional Training Facility welcomes prearranged visits by interested groups.

During the past week the men's Annual Lawn Bowling Tournament was held at Hacienda Carmel. Approximately 45 players turned out for the qualifying round. Those surviving the "cut" were paired off for quarterfinal, semifinal and championship rounds. Colonel Paul (Jack) Black and Maurice Norby opposed each other in the finals. This game ended in a tie after eight skillfully played "ends" and was decided after two "sudden death ends" with Norby the victor with a score 33 to 27. He will be recorded as 1966 Champion, with Colonel Black as runner-up.

Lawn bowling is a six-days-per-week activity for men at Hacienda Carmel, where climate and "green" cooperate to make this sport delightful outdoor recreation.

Hal Wright, recreational activities publicity chairman, reported these events.

FOREST HILL MANOR
Pacific Grove

Most recent resident at the Manor is Mrs. Hettie Uhl, a native of Indiana. She studied music in Boston, and before her marriage, taught private pupils. For many years she served as a house mother at Purdue University and at the University of California. One of her daughters lives in Berkeley and another in Canada.

CANTERBURY WOODS
Pacific Grove

Members of the Art Workshop Group have been invited by John Halloran, curator of the Carmel Art Association Galleries, to participate in an "Art Tour" on November 16. After the tour, members will gather for lunch at one of Carmel's famous restaurants.

Miss Helen Ballard and Miss Maude Meagher, residents of Canterbury Woods, took part in a panel discussion, "On Writing Techniques," at Highlands Inn last Saturday. This was the Andree Hope program of KRML.

Both Miss Ballard and Miss Meagher are professional writers and have several published books to their credit. Mrs. Earlene Bell, assistant administrator of Canterbury Woods, accompanied them.

PINPOINT PROFILES
Mabel Eddy Werger

The successful industrialist Henry Kaiser has given us a phase of philosophy I think bears repeating. It is: "Find a Need and Fill it." Probably Mrs. Mabel Eddy Werger of Forest Hill Manor has heard it, probably not, but in any case, she is definitely "Filling a Need." It happened this way. Several years ago Mrs. Werger heard someone remark they wished they could have sacred music played on Sunday evenings at the manor. Mabel mentioned that, in her record collection, she had several sacred music selections whereupon she brought them down to the lounge and played them for the delight of a small audience.

Thus "Vespers" on Sunday evening was started at the Manor. It is now one of the popular hours enjoyed by a goodly number of "regulars" who would not miss it for anything.

Mabel Eddy Werger was born in New Hampshire. She was educated in Boston and studied music under such well known teachers as Professor Hartz and Professor Nicholas Doudy. She was "discovered" while singing in a church choir by Edna Irene Peach, an operatic star. Mrs. Peach recognized the beauty of her voice and urged Mabel to study music. One of her first teachers was Professor Prosser of Wales. At the age of 14, Mabel lost her mother. This tragedy was almost too much for this sensitive child, who spent most of her waking hours in song.

"I always knew what I wanted to be—it seems my life as a singer was predestined," she confided.

Later Joseph Shell Lilly of Atlantic City, coach of professional voices, was chosen as her instructor. Through him her musical career became a reality. Fame and fortune did not interest this girl, although during ensuing years she actually attained both. She always contended a home and singing was all she wanted from life.

She sang in Convention Hall in Atlantic City. She sang in New York and Philadelphia with the Philharmonic orchestra among others. She always was guided by the steady hand of Joseph Shell Lilly. Soon she was studying languages and opera. One evening Mr. Lilly asked her to sing the opera she loved best of all—Tristan and Isolde—for a handpicked audience of music lovers. Her performance that night brought accoladaes from everyone present.

Another exciting experience came when she and an Indian chief, Ho Topi, gave a concert in New Jersey. It was very impressive when the chief, in all his tribal regalia, entered from one side of the stage, she from the other. Their first selection for the evening, most appropriately, was "The Indian Love Call." Some time later a noted Russian professor of music Professor Orizoni, heard Mabel sing and was greatly moved by

Drowning Rescue Told In Letters

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

Sunday about noon my friend and I would have drowned on the beach had not two very fine young boys risked their lives to save us.

While I was in the hospital, it dawned on me that I don't even know their names.

If you have any way of finding out who they were, I'd like to know so I can extend my thanks properly.

Dorothy Heilmann
1035 Henderson Ave.
Menlo Park, California

Editor's Note: Thanks to Mrs. Paul Ventura, 5820 Twin Gardens Drive, Carmichael, California, the Pine Cone is able to give Dorothy Heilman the information she desires in the following letter which was received on Monday morning.

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

Three modest foreign language students saved the lives of two women Sunday morning at Carmel River Beach.

The women were walking on the beach close to the shore when a rough wave knocked over one women who screamed for her friend to save her as she was being dragged out. Her friend ran in and grabbed her arm and they were both knocked down and dragged out.

Every time they came up for air they were knocked under again and further out. Their screams attracted three Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies students who had been playing ball on the beach.

Philip Potamitis ran in after them and tried grabbing the women but each time he was knocked down and out himself.

This went on several times and for awhile it looked like it was going to be three down. But his two friends, Michael Prevedel and Sam Dagher, came to his assistance. They managed to get the two women to shore and one gave artificial respiration to the woman who was gasping for breath.

An ambulance was called and, while the attendant ministered to the two women, the three students just sat unobtrusively at the side —Philip Potomitis looking pretty worse for wear himself.

When I went over to ask him if he was felling all right, also to say he had done his good deed for the day, he answered modestly in a charming accent that he could not have done it without the help of his friends.

All three were very modest and reticent about giving their names saying they were foreign names anyway.

Neither of the women could swim they later said and if it had not been for these boys they probably would have drowned for sure. As a witness, I tell you—you'd better believe it!

Sincerely yours,
Cecelia Ventura

Editor's Note: Further investigation reveals another person on the beach, Frank Lloyd of Carmel, phoned from the public telephone at the river beach parking lot, after a bystander provided a dime, for the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Fire Department. The two rescued women were taken in the ambulance to the Community Hospital and treated for shock.

Dorothy Heilman s companion was Rosalie Sievert of Carmel.

REPORTS FROM RLS

by Gardner Meloy

Arlen Chase, an 8th grade day-student from Pebble Beach, topped the Stevenson honor roll for the first six weeks of the school year with a perfect record, 100.00. A total of 65 boys made these honors (90.00 or better) with 14 achieving 95.0 or better for faculty honors. Fifty-five boys just missed the honor roll by 3.0 or less.

Second in honors went to an Atherton student, Terry Talbot, with third going to Robert Howard of Camarillo. (Both these boys are debate partners in Varsity Debate and excellent musicians in classical organ).

In a brief analysis of grades and honors made over the past five years, Assistant Headmaster Frank Keith pointed out that the median for this period was 86.50, up a full 2.5 points over last year, and 3.0 points over a similiar period in 1962.

Student President Larry Kuechler, Vice President Steve Barlow and Secretary Claude Wynn all made the honor roll in the fine tradition of student leadership and academics at RLS.

Faculty honors were made by: 4, William Hague of Pebble Beach. 5, Gary Novack of Sacramento. 6, Eric Haas of Berkeley. 6, William Smith Jr. of Suisun. 8, Richard C. Johnson of Pleasanton. 8, Christopher Wrather of Los Angeles. 10, Richard Millard of Pacific Grove. 11, Donald Stillwell of Exeter. 11, Tim Talbot of Atherton. 11, William Kondrat of Napa. 14, Raymond Cleary of Pebble Beach.

HONORS IN SPEECH TOURNAMENT

In the first individual events of the year, the RLS Forensic team with 17 contestants took fourth in sweepstakes at the Pacific Forensic League contest held at Monterey High on October 29. (RLS at 4th with 62 points was nosed out by Monterey High who took 3rd with 63 points and 47 entrants).

In three events, RLS entered four or more boys, and in all three did very well. (Several events are for girls only). Extempt, Impromptu and Radio Announcing all had RLS winners as Smith Dungan took 4th in Extempt, Joe Arsenio took first in Impromptu with Bill Atkins following at end and Smith taking a 6th, while Phil Fleming was fourth and Pat Leathers 5th in Radio Announcing. Only seven boys who entered had ever competed before and only eight failed to make the semifinals or finals in their events. Don Stillwell tried Oratorical Analysis for the first time and took 6th.

This marked a strong beginning for the 1966-67 season for the speech team, and followed their victory in Debate just two weeks earlier, where Terry Talbot and Robert Howard placed first in Varsity Debate at the PFL tournament in Soquel. The team took third in sweepstakes.

Some 45 boys, under the sponsorship of the Winston Churchill Forensic Club, are in competition this year. There will be ten additional contests before May, and then the state finals at the University of California (at Santa Barbara). The next debate will be held at RLS on November 19 and is open to the public.

SAVE NEXT WEEKEND

In addition to Parents Day on November 12, the Stevenson School will present an art show, open to the public, and showing some top local and San Francisco artists, under the supervision of campus Artist-in-Residence Richard Pearsall. Details next week.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Starting with the November 10 issue, a most interesting section will be added to the ever expanding Pine Cone. This will be "TRAVEL"—so dear to the hearts of our travelled, travelling, and intending to travel readers.

This travel section will be edited by a much travelled and well known Carmel resident, Arthur Porter. It will have the blessing of travel agents of the Monterey Peninsula and subscribers will be invited to send in travel questions to be answered by the agents, who have expressed their willingness to do so. There will also be a column for readers to submit and share Travel Tips from their actual experiences.

Arthur Porter will start the section off with the personal travel stories "Convoy to Cambodia" and "Caviar for Breakfast." He will then open a competition for stories on the subject of "My Most Interesting Trip" with prizes to be offered for the five best which will be published in the Pine Cone each week for 15 weeks.

If anyone has further suggestions, do please send them in. "Travel" is really a people-to-people program.

All of our readers (except members of the Pine Cone staff) are urged to participate in the contest.

Readers may remember the radio program "Arthur Porter Reads" over KRML, sponsored by Holman's. Of further interest is his background of living in Peking, China, where he owned and operated the celebrated Marco Polo Galleries. A.C.

ALTAR SOCIETY

Next Thursday, Monsignor Fitzpatrick of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School will show slides and speak of his experiences in Korea and the Far East before the Altar Society of Carmel Mission Basilica at Crespi Hall.

Following the meeting, tea will be served by Mrs. Roman Newmann, Mrs. Joseph McCloskey, Mrs. Ronald Stoney and Veva Burgen.

SPEAKS TO THE ISSUES:

PUBLIC WELFARE

Welfare aid should clearly be aimed at restoring self sufficiency. A creative society mobilizing the business and industrial community to pinpont who is unemployed, where and how, and then how to make a place or them in our productive free economy, can fight a war on poverty 1,000 times more effectively than government.

EDUCATION

Our educational system should be the best in the nation, but its higher echelons are in danger of being destroyed by an anarchistic minority. Our university administrators must be responsive to our demands to enforce a code of decency, common sense and dedication to the high and noble educative purpose of a university.

What's Going On . . .

what he heard. He came backstage and asked to see her at home the next day. She saw him and listened while he proposed a concert tour to London. Mabel thought it over but declined the offer. She did not want to leave her family for so long a time. It was a wise decision because her husband, who had been an invalid for a long time, passed away two weeks later. Tragedy struck again quickly. That same year she lost her son.

She and her little daughter lived alone for six years. During this time she studied and received her real estate broker's license in New Jersey. She continued with her singing however and did concert work in the evenings.

Eventually Mabel met and married William Werger. He was a certified public accountant with the Federal Reserve Bank in New York City. Years later, when she and her husband were vacationing in the West, tragedy visited the family again in the loss of her daughter.

In 1938, Mabel and William decided to move to the San Fernando Valley which they had visited once before. He started his own business there and Mabel retired from the concert stage.

However, in 1939, she was called back and asked to broadcast Christmas Carols from a Los Angeles auditorium during the holiday season. This she did. Later she joined the Old Troupers Club in Los Angeles where she met many of the oldtime actors and performers: William Farnum, Sadie McDonald, Julie Hislop, Wallace Beery, Marie Dressler and others.

When talking about the Old Troupers Club Mabel said, "I must tell you about 'The Elderly Lovelies' a group of five ladies, one admits to being 72 years old, Heaven only knows how old some of the others are. One night they gave their act at one of the get-togethers of the Old Troupers Club. They were called back for an encore but refused saying "We have to get back to Ken Murray's Blackouts. We can't let him down. We are on stage this next hour. After all, he took us off the shelf —dusted us off—and put us back in circulation. After we do our act there, we stagger back home and crawl into our oxygen tents again.'

Their sense of humor was priceless."

Among Mabel's relatives she names Nelson Eddy, the noted singer, Sherman Eddy, author of some 80 books, Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science Philosophy, Captain William Crawford Eddy, electronics wizard, who commands "Radio Chicago," the Navy's huge radio and radar school.

Mabel and her family had a very unusual cat named Mischief. He was unusual because he really seemed to understand what they were talking about. He learned to turn the spigot and get a drink of water. He would "sing" on command and to top it off—when the family was saying "grace" at the evening meal—he would bow his head between his two front paws and remain still with bowed head until he heard the word "'Amen."

COUNTRY CAPTAIN
(Serves 12)

One small chicken breast and thigh per person; 6 small white onions, chopped; 2 garlic cloves, minced; 2 green peppers, chopped (seeds and white membrane removed); 2 tsps. curry powder; salt and pepper to taste; 2 sticks butter; 2 tsps. powdered thyme (or to taste); 4 No. 2 cans tomatoes; 1½ cups blanched, slivered almonds; 1½ cups currants.

Roll skinned chicken pieces in seasoned flour and saute in butter (minus 4 tbsps.) in large skillet until golden brown. Meanwhile chop the onions, garlic and green peppers in a wooden bowl together. Saute these in rest of butter for 15 minutes; add seasonings with 1 cup water and tomatoes. Mix well and pour this sauce over chicken in large casserole (or 2 smaller ones). Bake at 325 F. 1 hour. Add nuts and currants the last 20 minutes. Keep hot on electric servers with separate casserole of fluffy wild and white rice combined.

The salad is made with red lettuce broken into bite-size pieces, grapefruit and mandarin orange sections and a light dressing made with salad oil, citrus fruit juices (including lemon juice to taste), salt and paprika.

To make the Brownie Pie, use prepared Brownie Mix and bake according to package directions in a pie pan. When cool, cut into wedges and serve topped with peppermint icecream and chocolate sauce.

As this is the first anniversary of Phyllis Jervey's PARTY PLANS, the PINE CONE is happy to make extra space for this week's outstanding dishes.

Pine Needles . . .

Idyllic Journey

Mrs. Jerome Carlson (Jehanne Beitry-Salinger) is home after two months in Europe, during which she viewed every art treasure possible and enjoyed reunions with numerous cousins in various parts of the continent. Her return flight from Paris landed in Chicago, where she met Mrs. Squire Hurst (the former Charlotte Townsend of Carmel) in the airport. Charlotte sends greetings to her friends here. There, also, she met her son Pierre and his wife, Nicole, whom she joined on the flight to California. In Los Angeles, she had time only to kiss her young grandson, Gregory Salinger.

One of Mrs. Carlson's most interesting stays in France was with a cousin whose husband's ancestral home has been occupied for over 300 years. Another was as the guest of Nicole Salinger's parents, M. and Mme. Jean Gillman at Riquewihr, a fifth century medieval town in Alsace which is now a national monument. At Thann, she visited the Gothic cathedral, a jewel which is the smallest and considered the finest example of Gothic art in all of Europe.

Three weeks in Spain followed a trip to Switzerland. In Barcelona, Mrs. Carlson enjoyed the hospitality of Sr. and Sra. Ramon Casanova, parents of Mrs. David (Josette) Pitfield of Carmel, who was still there at the end of her vacation. With old friends from California, Mrs. Carlson drove through Spain, stopping in some of the great cities as well as smaller places. A connoisseur of art, she was thrilled with del Prado museum in Madrid as well as the Alhambra in Granada.

Among many friends who entertained her during ten days in Paris were two former consuls general of France to San Francisco, Pierre Basdetant, and Mme. Basdetant, and Jacques de la Ferrier and Mme. Ferrier. While in Paris Mrs. Carlson was able to view the great Vermeer show which was two years in preparation and includes also many of the great paintings of France.

"Pipe Dream" Cast Party

Ed and Olga Lundblad lined their Carmel Knolls driveway with lighted pumpkins to welcome the "Pipe Dream" cast and friends after the opening night performance Saturday. Some of those in formal attire enjoying the impromptu combo from the cast, also the wonderful food—whole hams and turkeys and champagne punch—were Mr. and Mrs. Cole Weston, Mayor and Mrs. Steve Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Norberg, Dr. Friedy Heisler, Peggy Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. Basil Allaire, James Chubb, Joe Broadman, the Robert Dudleys and Rosario Mazzeo of the Boston Symphony.

WE'VE GOT A SECRET! There is a very good home on the market in a top location, on an oversized lot. There are 3 bedrooms, (1 delightfully large), 2 baths, open beam living room, and sunny kitchen and patio. It's on the market for $47,500. This doesn't tell you much about this lovely home and the owner asks that we give no phone information, but we'd be delighted to show it to you by appointment.

SAUNA BATH ANYONE? One goes with this newish family home in a quiet and convenient Carmel area. You also get 3 nice bedrooms, 2 tiled baths, and open beamed living room, a sparkling kitchen and family-dining room. Central heat, of course. The corner location affords sunny patio space for BBQs and children's play. Only $31,500 for this and you'd better see it!

JUST LISTED! Ocean view lot on San Antonio. $25,000.

A FEW LINES FROM LOIS

TEA AND CRUMPETS—enjoy them before a stone fireplace in the cozy living room of a typical Carmel cottage—"typical" meaning redwood board and bat, vaulted ceiling, nice windows looking out on oak trees and patios, rooms of charming size and shape. And not last by any means, walking distance to the Village (this is just near Sunset School). It isn't a big house, but big enough for two. And it isn't a big price, either—just $22,500, which will leave you plenty of pennies for your tea and crumpets. May we show you?

ONE BEDROOM ENOUGH? How about that something unique—a newish house with oldish charm? Only three blocks from town we have a little cutie-pie in a nice, woodsy setting. It is very well built, with heavy shake roof, hardwood floors, heavy stained lapsiding exterior. Interior decorating is spinning wheel charm throughout. It has a problem—no garage, although there's room for one. And the price is just $22,000.

WHERE ARE ALL THE GOOD LOTS? Under some of our older cottages, that's where. For instance, on Monte Verde near 13th, a very lovely lot comes complete with a cottage with 2 bedrooms, fireplace, cute but not fancy, in very good condition, regularly rented for $125 per month. A great spot for income or vacationing now, a beautiful building site when you decide you are at last ready to retire and build your dream home. Package is $23,000. Lots in that area (when available) sell for $18,000. You figure it out; and if it fits your plans, let us show you the house.

BARRON RECEPTION

Gerald Barron of Carmel Riviera, second from right above, smiles happily at the reception Sunday in his honor at the Ansel Adams home in Carmel Highlands. Next to him is Senator Eugene McCarthy (D. Minn.) who came to spur Barron's congressional race against the 12th Congressional District incumbent, Republican Burt L. Talcott. Next to Senator McCarthy are two staunch Carmel Democrats, Mr. and Mrs. Speirs Ruskell. At extreme left is Ann Alanson, Northern California Democratic committeewoman, who flew from San Francisco for the affair.

Stock Market Notes

By Hugh Hannon

Recent earnings reports have been great. Why aren't the stocks going up? The November Fortune magazine's Business Roundup column was titled "A Gathering Uneasiness". Recently published figures show that the steep rise in business these last few years is topping out. The question now is whether this action will be followed by a down turn. The recent bank failures in Lebanon, Hong Kong, and even here in America, are sobering signs. The statements Mr. Davis, outgoing president of the American Bankers Association, made about high interest rates not going lower in the near future; but possibly going higher because of increased demand for money to rebuild cities and industrial plants all over the world.

The struggle England is going through to try and get its national finances healthy. Uncertainty as to whether the war in Viet Nam is going to get hotter or colder. Recent figures showing business inventories too high and inventory buying turning down sharply. The sharp down turn in housing due to high interest rates. And last in this Gilbert and Sullivan comic tragedy we have a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers admit that they can't decide whether to fight inflation or recession. It's good to see that stock brokers aren't the only group that's confused; but this is not a good climate for rising stocks.

If interest rates are going to stay high, or even if they aren't for that matter, why aren't bank stocks a good buy now? Here is what Clark, Dodge's morning wire this week says. The five year period of profitless prosperity for the banking industry is drawing to a close. Bank profit, which declined while industrial margins rose, should level off this year and increase in 1967. Therefore, bank stocks should be very near their lows. Wells Fargo is their favorite western bank; but my advice is buy some shares in the bank you deal with. You think it's a good company or you would't bank with them. It's impossible for me to believe that any major western bank won't grow with the west.

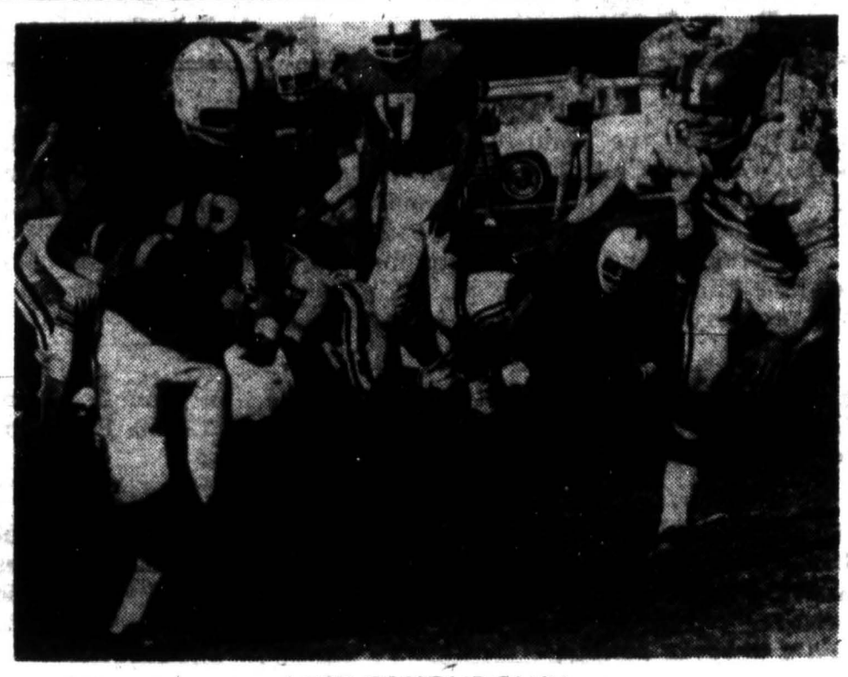
Miss Peck

Eva Walcott Peck died October 27 in an Oakland hospital following an extended illness. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Truman Funeral Home in Oakland. Interment will be at the Swan Point Cemetery, Providence, Rhode Island.

Born in New York City in 1884, she was the daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Edward Sprague Peck and was the last living member of her family.

Miss Peck had many friends all over the world, but especially in Carmel, where she is remembered for her cheerful and willing work at the Church of the Wayfarer. Her active years were spent as a church sercetary. For many years she assisted Dr. Ralph Sockman.

Memorial services will be held in the Little Chapel at the Church of the Wayfarer, tomorrow at 2 p.m. The Reverend Alexander C. Bryans will officiate.



LAST TOUCHDOWN

years have passed. Now we must look ahead. In his speech at the formal 50th birthday observance in Sunset Center auditorium on Monday, Admiral C. W. Fisher, president of the Carmel Citizens Committee, entrusted us with "a torch" —to keep alive the spirit of Carmel in the soul and heart of each one of the city's residents. This spirit is worth passing on, he said, so that Carmel, as time progresses, can fight external pressures seeking to change our way of life.

Councilman Norberg, through his golden anniversary events, fanned the feebly flickering flame of Carmel's torch. Let us honor Admiral Fisher's trust and all strive to make it flare brightly through the years to come. M.L.
